Please note: The opinions expressed in this report are just that—informed opinions. They should not be considered promises or advice. Also, please keep in mind that the information and opinions cover the period through the date on the front of this report. Of course, the risks of investing in your fund are spelled out in the prospectus.

Your Fund's Performance at a Glance

- For the 12 months ended January 31, 2023, Vanguard High-Yield Corporate Fund returned –3.37% for Investor Shares and –3.27% for Admiral Shares. These results outpaced the –4.67% return of the fund's benchmark index.
- Despite some relief in midsummer and toward the end of the period, it was a volatile, challenging time for financial markets. Early on, inflation readings across much of the world continued climbing to multidecade highs amid supply chain bottlenecks, rising energy and food prices, and broader price increases in goods and services. Central banks responded by aggressively tightening monetary policy. Later, it appeared that inflation might have peaked, and central banks began slowing their pace of interest rate hikes
- The sharp rise in yields increased fears of recession and weighed heavily on bond prices. The Treasury yield curve inverted.
- Among high-yield bonds, credit spreads widened and higher-quality bonds generally outperformed those of lower quality. Shorter-dated bonds generally outperformed those with longer maturities.
- The fund benefited from lower credit risk positioning relative to the benchmark and from security selection within the wireless, pharmaceutical, and technology sectors. An underweight allocation to energy, and security selection within that sector, detracted most from relative performance.

Advisors' Report

For the 12 months ended January 31, 2023, Vanguard High-Yield Corporate Fund returned –3.37% for Investor Shares and –3.27% for Admiral Shares. They fared better than the –4.67% return of the fund's benchmark index. (The High-Yield Corporate Composite Index consists of 95% Bloomberg U.S. High-Yield Ba/B 2% Issuer Capped Index and 5% Bloomberg 1–5 Year Treasury Bond Index.)

Effective August 29, 2022, Vanguard Fixed Income Group was added as a second investment advisor to manage a portion of the fund's assets. Vanguard may use a multi-manager approach when there is an opportunity to combine talented managers that may have complementary approaches to improve long-term investor outcomes. It's not uncommon for different advisors to have different views about individual securities or the broader investment environment

The accompanying table lists the advisors, the amount and percentage of fund assets each manages, and brief descriptions of their investment strategies.

The advisors have provided the following assessment of the investment environment during the past 12 months. They have also outlined the notable successes and shortfalls in their portfolios; in the case of Vanguard's portfolio, these successes and shortfalls are for the period from August 29, 2022, through the end of the fiscal year. These comments were prepared on February 10, 2023.

Fixed income markets experienced negative total returns during the fiscal year as government bond yields moved sharply higher in response to tightening global monetary policies to combat persistent inflationary pressures. High-yield spreads widened amid increasing concerns that tighter financial conditions could tip the global economy into recession.

Although we predict continued macroeconomic headwinds during 2023 and expect defaults to migrate toward long-term averages, we think a repeat of 2022's negative total-return year is unlikely given the valuation starting point. Further, with high-yield credit spreads and "all-in" yields north of 4% and 8%, respectively, we believe market technicals could turn positive as investors seek to capture spreads and yields that are significantly higher than a year ago.

We are closely watching inflation and labor market data points as both are drivers of the Federal Reserve's policy and key factors in the depth and timing of a potential recession. Security selection should take on increased importance in 2023 because we anticipate greater dispersion across high-yield issuers, sectors, and credit qualities. We continue to prefer companies that can maintain their cash flows in a more challenging market and economic backdrop through strong competitive positioning, less-cyclical end-market exposures, and a focus on balance sheet improvement.

Despite rising input costs, high-yield issuers' fundamentals held up relatively well in 2022. Many issuers have bolstered their balance sheets since the onset of COVID-19, providing some insulation from rising costs. However, we anticipate continued pressure on many issuers' profit margins, as higher costs might not be passed on so easily to a flagging consumer sector in 2023. All-in borrowing costs are significantly above where they were a year ago, further cutting into corporate free-cash-flow generation. Overall, we expect high-vield corporate fundamentals to weaken over the next 6 to 12 months as the effects of tighter monetary policy work their way through the economy.

Entering 2023, we believe a modestly defensive risk posture, with a strong emphasis on security selection, is appropriate. Given the macroeconomic headwinds, weakening high-yield issuer fundamentals, and median-level valuations in the sector, we do not believe investors are likely to be compensated adequately for taking on excess credit risk. We are, however, maintaining the flexibility to pivot and tactically increase risk at potentially more attractive valuations in the event of further market volatility.

An underweight to and security selection within the energy sector detracted most from our portfolio's relative results. An overweight to the pharmaceuticals sector also hurt relative performance. An underweight to and security section within the media and entertainment sector helped returns, as did security selection within the pharmaceuticals and wireless sectors. The portfolio maintains meaningful exposure to relatively higher-quality names within the high-yield market. We believe these companies have more stable credit profiles and greater predictability of cash flows than those at the lower end of the quality spectrum.

We prefer higher-quality credits, as they provide stable income and help minimize defaults in the portfolio. We continue to diversify our holdings by issuer and industry. We also continue to deemphasize non-cash-paying securities, preferred stocks, and equity-linked securities, such as convertibles, given their potential for volatility.

Portfolio Manager:

Michael Chang, CFA

With few exceptions, 2022 overall was a very challenging year across financial markets. A shift in monetary policy, combined with increasing uncertainty geopolitically and economically, resulted in a challenging macro backdrop for financial markets in general and high yield specifically. That translated to higher rates and wider credit spreads, leading to negative returns in the high-yield market and across financial markets broadly. January 2023 was a bit of a reversal from 2022. We saw a rally based on expectations or hopes that we are nearing an end to the policy-tightening cycle and that inflation has peaked. All of this, in combination with better valuations, has created a more supportive backdrop for high yield going into 2023.

Since becoming an advisor on a portion of the fund roughly five months ago, we have been gradually shifting the portfolio to better reflect our bottom-up views on issuers and sectors, but we maintain our leaning toward greater diversification and higher quality in the high-yield spectrum.

With lower-quality bonds underperforming in 2022, our defensive bias helped our portfolio, though some of that has reversed in the last month of the fiscal year. Our sector leanings boosted relative performance. We have favored and continue to favor some consumer-facing, travel-related sectors such as airlines, cruise lines, lodging, and gaming companies. Demand here has continued to recover—and, in some cases, it has exceeded pre-pandemic levels. These sectors were hit disproportionately by COVID and the recovery in many cases has been slower than for the broader economy. We feel that demand will continue to recover, and that this should lead to credit improvement for many of these companies.

Interest rates were the biggest driver of markets in 2022. We believe credit risk will be the dominant driver of returns in 2023, given the prospects of a weaker economic environment. Default rates will likely rise from the record lows of the last couple of years. Given where valuations are today, investors are not being paid to go down in quality. We remain defensively positioned and biased toward higher quality, bottom-up approach to avoid problematic issues.

About Your Fund's Expenses

As a shareholder of the fund, you incur ongoing costs, which include costs for portfolio management, administrative services, and shareholder reports (like this one), among others. Operating expenses, which are deducted from a fund's gross income, directly reduce the investment return of the fund.

A fund's expenses are expressed as a percentage of its average net assets. This figure is known as the expense ratio. The following examples are intended to help you understand the ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in your fund and to compare these costs with those of other mutual funds. The examples are based on an investment of $1,000 made at the beginning of the period shown and held for the entire period.

The accompanying table illustrates your fund's costs in two ways:

• Based on actual fund return. This section helps you to estimate the actual expenses that you paid over the period. The "Ending Account Value" shown is derived from the fund's actual return, and the third column shows the dollar amount that would have been paid by an investor who started with $1,000 in the fund. You may use the information here, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period.

To do so, simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number given for your fund under the heading "Expenses Paid During Period."

• Based on hypothetical 5% yearly return. This section is intended to help you compare your fund's costs with those of other mutual funds. It assumes that the fund had a yearly return of 5% before expenses, but that the expense ratio is unchanged. In this case—because the return used is not the fund's actual return—the results do not apply to your investment. The example is useful in making comparisons because the Securities and Exchange Commission requires all mutual funds to calculate expenses based on a 5% return. You can assess your fund's costs by comparing this hypothetical example with the hypothetical examples that appear in shareholder reports of other funds.

Note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight and help you compare ongoing costs only and do not reflect transaction costs incurred by the fund for buying and selling securities. Further, the expenses do not include any purchase, redemption, or account service fees described in the fund prospectus. If such fees were applied to your account, your costs would be higher. Your fund does not carry a "sales load."

The calculations assume no shares were bought or sold during the period. Your actual costs may have been higher or lower, depending on the amount of your investment and the timing of any purchases or redemptions.

You can find more information about the fund's expenses, including annual expense ratios, in the Financial Statements section of this report. For additional information on operating expenses and other shareholder costs, please refer to your fund's current prospectus.

Six Months Ended January 31, 2023

	Beginning Account Value 7/31/2022	Ending Account Value 1/31/2023	Expenses Paid During Period
Based on Actual Fund Return
High-Yield Corporate Fund
Investor Shares	$1,000.00	$1,010.40	$1.11
Admiral™ Shares	1,000.00	1,011.00	0.61
Based on Hypothetical 5% Yearly Return
Investor Shares	$1,000.00	$1,024.10	$1.12
Admiral Shares	1,000.00	1,024.60	0.61

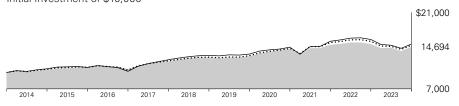

The calculations are based on expenses incurred in the most recent six-month period. The fund's annualized six-month expense ratios for that period are 0.22% for Investor Shares and 0.12% for Admiral Shares. The dollar amounts shown as "Expenses Paid" are equal to the annualized expense ratio multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by the number of days in the most recent six-month period, then divided by the number of days in the most recent 12-month period (184/365).

Performance Summary

All of the returns in this report represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results that may be achieved by the fund. (Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data cited. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, visit our website at vanguard.com/performance.) Note, too, that both investment returns and principal value can fluctuate widely, so an investor's shares, when sold, could be worth more or less than their original cost. The returns shown do not reflect taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or on the sale of fund shares.

Notes to Financial Statements

Vanguard High-Yield Corporate Fund is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as an open-end investment company, or mutual fund. The fund offers two classes of shares: Investor Shares and Admiral Shares. Each of the share classes has different eligibility and minimum purchase requirements, and is designed for different types of investors.

Certain of the fund's investments are in corporate debt instruments; the issuers' abilities to meet their obligations may be affected by economic developments in their respective industries. The fund invests in securities of foreign issuers, which may subject it to investment risks not normally associated with investing in securities of U.S. corporations. To minimize the currency risk associated with investment in securities denominated in currencies other than the U.S. dollar, the fund attempts to hedge its currency exposure. Significant market disruptions, such as those caused by pandemics (e.g., COVID-19 pandemic), natural or environmental disasters, war (e.g., Russia's invasion of Ukraine), acts of terrorism, or other events, can adversely affect local and global markets and normal market operations. Any such disruptions could have an adverse impact on the value of the fund's investments and fund performance.

- A. The following significant accounting policies conform to generally accepted accounting principles for U.S. investment companies. The fund consistently follows such policies in preparing its financial statements.
- 1. Security Valuation: Securities are valued as of the close of trading on the New York Stock Exchange (generally 4 p.m., Eastern time) on the valuation date. Bonds and temporary cash investments are valued using the latest bid prices or using valuations based on a matrix system (which considers such factors as security prices, yields, maturities, and ratings), both as furnished by independent pricing services. Securities for which market quotations are not readily available, or whose values have been affected by events occurring before the fund's pricing time but after the close of the securities' primary markets, are valued by methods deemed by the valuation designee to represent fair value and subject to oversight by the board of trustees.
- 2. Foreign Currency: Securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars using exchange rates obtained from an independent third party as of the fund's pricing time on the valuation date. Realized gains (losses) and unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on investment securities include the effects of changes in exchange rates since the securities were purchased, combined with the effects of changes in security prices. Fluctuations in the value of other assets and liabilities resulting from changes in exchange rates are recorded as unrealized foreign currency gains (losses) until the assets or liabilities are settled in cash, at which time they are recorded as realized foreign currency gains (losses).
- 3. Floating Rate Loan Interests: Floating rate loan interests represent interests in amounts owed by corporate or other borrowers. These instruments may be in the form of loans, trade claims or other receivables and may include standby financing commitments such as revolving credit facilities that obligate the fund to supply additional cash to the borrower on demand. Floating rate loan interests may be made directly with a borrower or acquired through assignment or participation. The fund's right to enforce a borrower's compliance with the terms of the loan agreement, or benefit directly from the collateral supporting the loan, varies when the loan is a direct borrowing, an assignment, or a participation. Floating rate loan interests involve various risks including risk of loss in case of default, insolvency, or the bankruptcy of the borrower and are generally subject to restrictions on transfer with limited opportunities to sell them in secondary markets. The fund may also invest in loan commitments, which are contractual obligations for a future funding. The fund may earn a commitment fee on any unfunded portion of these commitments which is amortized to interest income over the commitment period. Both the funded portion of a floating rate loan interest as well as its unfunded commitment, if any, is reflected on the Schedule of Investments.

- 4. Repurchase Agreements: The fund enters into repurchase agreements with institutional counterparties. Securities pledged as collateral to the fund under repurchase agreements are held by a custodian bank until the agreements mature, and in the absence of a default, such collateral cannot be repledged, resold, or rehypothecated. Each agreement requires that the market value of the collateral be sufficient to cover payments of interest and principal. The fund further mitigates its counterparty risk by entering into repurchase agreements only with a diverse group of prequalified counterparties, monitoring their financial strength, and entering into master repurchase agreements with its counterparties. The master repurchase agreements provide that, in the event of a counterparty's default (including bankruptcy), the fund may terminate any repurchase agreements with that counterparty, determine the net amount owed, and sell or retain the collateral up to the net amount owed to the fund. Such action may be subject to legal proceedings, which may delay or limit the disposition of collateral.
- 5. Futures Contracts: The fund uses futures contracts to invest in fixed income asset classes with greater efficiency and lower cost than is possible through direct investment, to add value when these instruments are attractively priced, or to adjust sensitivity to changes in interest rates. The primary risks associated with the use of futures contracts are imperfect correlation between changes in market values of bonds held by the fund and the prices of futures contracts, and the possibility of an illiquid market. Counterparty risk involving futures is mitigated because a regulated clearinghouse is the counterparty instead of the clearing broker. To further mitigate counterparty risk, the fund trades futures contracts on an exchange, monitors the financial strength of its clearing brokers and clearinghouse, and has entered into clearing agreements with its clearing brokers. The clearinghouse imposes initial margin requirements to secure the fund's performance and requires daily settlement of variation margin representing changes in the market value of each contract. Any securities pledged as initial margin for open contracts are noted in the Schedule of Investments.

Futures contracts are valued at their quoted daily settlement prices. The notional amounts of the contracts are not recorded in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Fluctuations in the value of the contracts are recorded in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities as an asset (liability) and in the Statement of Operations as unrealized appreciation (depreciation) until the contracts are closed, when they are recorded as realized gains (losses) on futures contracts.

During the year ended January 31, 2023, the fund's average investments in long and short futures contracts represented less than 1% of net assets, based on the average of the notional amounts at each quarter-end during the period.

6. Forward Currency Contracts: The fund enters into forward currency contracts to protect the value of securities and related receivables and payables against changes in future foreign exchange rates. The fund's risks in using these contracts include movement in the values of the foreign currencies relative to the U.S. dollar and the ability of the counterparties to fulfill their obligations under the contracts. The fund mitigates its counterparty risk by entering into forward currency contracts only with a diverse group of prequalified counterparties, monitoring their financial strength, entering into master netting arrangements with its counterparties, and requiring its counterparties to transfer collateral as security for their performance. In the absence of a default, the collateral pledged or received by the fund cannot be repledged, resold, or rehypothecated. The master netting arrangements provide that, in the event of a counterparty's default (including bankruptcy), the fund may terminate the forward currency contracts, determine the net amount owed by either party in accordance with its master netting arrangements, and sell or retain any collateral held up to the net amount owed to the fund under the master netting arrangements. The forward currency contracts contain provisions whereby a counterparty may terminate open contracts if the fund's net assets decline below a certain level, triggering a payment by the fund if the fund is in a net liability position at the time of the termination. The payment amount would be reduced by any collateral the fund has pledged. Any securities pledged as collateral for open contracts are noted in the Schedule of Investments. The value of collateral received or pledged is compared daily to the value of the forward currency contracts exposure with each counterparty, and any difference, if in excess of a specified minimum transfer amount, is adjusted and settled within two business days.

Forward currency contracts are valued at their quoted daily prices obtained from an independent third party, adjusted for currency risk based on the expiration date of each contract. The notional amounts of the contracts are not recorded in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Fluctuations in the value of the contracts are recorded in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities as an asset (liability) and in the Statement of Operations as unrealized appreciation (depreciation) until the contracts are closed, when they are recorded as realized gains (losses) on forward currency contracts.

During the year ended January 31, 2023, the fund's average investment in forward currency contracts represented 4% of net assets, based on the average of the notional amounts at each quarter-end during the period.

7. Swap Contracts: The fund invests in credit default swaps to adjust the overall credit risk of the fund or to actively overweight or underweight credit risk to a specific issuer or group of issuers. The fund may sell credit protection through credit default swaps to simulate investments in long positions that are either unavailable or considered to be less attractively priced in the bond market. The fund may purchase credit protection through credit default swaps to reduce credit exposure to a given issuer or issuers. Under the terms of the swaps, an up-front payment may be exchanged between the seller and buyer. In addition, the seller of the credit protection receives a periodic payment of premium from the buyer that is a fixed percentage applied to a notional amount. If, for example, the reference entity is subject to a credit event (such as bankruptcy, failure to pay, or obligation acceleration) during the term of the swap, the seller agrees to either physically settle or cash settle the swap contract. If the swap is physically settled, the seller agrees to pay the buyer an amount equal to the notional amount and take delivery of a debt instrument of the reference issuer with a par amount equal to such notional amount. If the swap is cash settled, the seller agrees to pay the buyer the difference between the notional amount and the final price for the relevant debt instrument, as determined either in a market auction or pursuant to a pre-agreed-upon valuation procedure.

The fund enters into centrally cleared credit default swaps to achieve the same objectives specified with respect to the equivalent over-the-counter swaps but with less counterparty risk because a regulated clearinghouse is the counterparty instead of the clearing broker or executing broker. The clearinghouse imposes initial margin requirements to secure the fund's performance, and requires daily settlement of variation margin representing changes in the market value of each contract. To further mitigate counterparty risk, the fund trades with a diverse group of prequalified executing brokers; monitors the financial strength of its clearing brokers, executing brokers, and clearinghouse; and has entered into agreements with its clearing brokers and executing brokers.

The primary risk associated with selling credit protection is that, upon the occurrence of a defined credit event, the market value of the debt instrument received by the fund (or, in a cash settled swap, the debt instruments used to determine the settlement payment by the fund) will be significantly less than the amount paid by the fund and, in a physically settled swap, the fund may receive an illiquid debt instrument. A risk associated with all types of swaps is the possibility that a counterparty may default on its obligation to pay net amounts due to the fund. The fund's maximum amount subject to counterparty risk is the unrealized appreciation on the swap contract. The fund mitigates its counterparty risk by entering into swaps only with a diverse group of pregualified counterparties, monitoring their financial strength, entering into master netting arrangements with its counterparties, and requiring its counterparties to transfer collateral as security for their performance. In the absence of a default, the collateral pledged or received by the fund cannot be repledged, resold, or rehypothecated. In the event of a counterparty's default (including bankruptcy), the fund may terminate any swap contracts with that counterparty, determine the net amount owed by either party in accordance with its master netting arrangements, and sell or retain any collateral held up to the net amount owed to the fund under the master netting arrangements. The swap contracts contain provisions whereby a counterparty may terminate open contracts if the fund's net assets decline below a certain level, triggering a payment by the fund if the fund is in a net liability position at the time of the termination. The payment amount would be reduced by any collateral the fund has pledged. Any securities pledged as collateral for open contracts are noted in the Schedule of Investments. The value of collateral received or pledged is compared daily to the value of the swap contracts exposure with each counterparty, and any difference, if in excess of a specified minimum transfer amount, is adjusted and settled within two business days.

The notional amounts of swap contracts are not recorded in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Swaps are valued daily based on market quotations received from independent pricing services or recognized dealers and the change in value is recorded in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities as an asset (liability) and in the Statement of Operations as unrealized appreciation (depreciation) until the seller of credit protection is required to take delivery (or, in a cash settled swap, pay the settlement amount determined) upon occurrence of a credit event, periodic payments are made, or the swap terminates, at which time realized gain (loss) is recorded. The net premium to be received or paid by the fund under swap contracts is accrued daily and recorded as realized gain (loss) over the life of the contract.

During the year ended January 31, 2023, the fund's average amounts of investments in credit protection sold and credit protection purchased represented 1% and 0% of net assets, respectively, based on the average of the notional amounts at each quarter-end during the period.

- 8. Federal Income Taxes: The fund intends to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company and distribute virtually all of its taxable income. The fund's tax returns are open to examination by the relevant tax authorities until expiration of the applicable statute of limitations, which is generally three years after the filing of the tax return. Management has analyzed the fund's tax positions taken for all open federal and state income tax years, and has concluded that no provision for income tax is required in the fund's financial statements.
- 9. Distributions: Distributions from net investment income are declared daily and paid on the first business day of the following month. Annual distributions from realized capital gains, if any, are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Distributions are determined on a tax basis at the fiscal year-end and may differ from net investment income and realized capital gains for financial reporting purposes.

10. Credit Facilities and Interfund Lending Program: The fund and certain other funds managed by The Vanguard Group ("Vanguard") participate in a $4.4 billion committed credit facility provided by a syndicate of lenders pursuant to a credit agreement and an uncommitted credit facility provided by Vanguard. Both facilities may be renewed annually. Each fund is individually liable for its borrowings, if any, under the credit facilities. Borrowings may be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes and are subject to the fund's regulatory and contractual borrowing restrictions. With respect to the committed credit facility, the participating funds are charged administrative fees and an annual commitment fee of 0.10% of the undrawn committed amount of the facility, which are allocated to the funds based on a method approved by the fund's board of trustees and included in Management and Administrative expenses on the fund's Statement of Operations. Any borrowings under either facility bear interest at an agreed-upon spread plus the higher of the federal funds effective rate, the overnight bank funding rate, or the Daily Simple Secured Overnight Financing Rate inclusive of an additional agreed-upon spread. However, borrowings under the uncommitted credit facility may bear interest based upon an alternate rate agreed to by the fund and Vanguard.

In accordance with an exemptive order (the "Order") from the SEC, the fund may participate in a joint lending and borrowing program that allows registered open-end Vanguard funds to borrow money from and lend money to each other for temporary or emergency purposes (the "Interfund Lending Program"), subject to compliance with the terms and conditions of the Order, and to the extent permitted by the fund's investment objective and investment policies. Interfund loans and borrowings normally extend overnight but can have a maximum duration of seven days. Loans may be called on one business day's notice. The interest rate to be charged is governed by the conditions of the Order and internal procedures adopted by the board of trustees. The board of trustees is responsible for overseeing the Interfund Lending Program.

For the year ended January 31, 2023, the fund did not utilize the credit facilities or the Interfund Lending Program.

11. Other: Interest income includes income distributions received from Vanguard Market Liquidity Fund and is accrued daily. Premiums and discounts on debt securities are amortized and accreted, respectively, to interest income over the lives of the respective securities, except for premiums on certain callable debt securities that are amortized to the earliest call date. Security transactions are accounted for on the date securities are bought or sold. Costs used to determine realized gains (losses) on the sale of investment securities are those of the specific securities sold.

Each class of shares has equal rights as to assets and earnings, except that each class separately bears certain class-specific expenses related to maintenance of shareholder accounts (included in Management and Administrative expenses) and shareholder reporting. Marketing and distribution expenses are allocated to each class of shares based on a method approved by the board of trustees. Income, other non-class-specific expenses, and gains and losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

B. Wellington Management Company LLP provides investment advisory services to a portion of the fund for a fee calculated at an annual percentage rate of average net assets managed by the advisor.

Beginning August 2022, Vanguard provides investment advisory services to a portion of the fund as described below; the fund paid Vanguard advisory fees of $656,000 for the year ended January 31, 2023.

For the year ended January 31, 2023, the aggregate investment advisory fee paid to all advisors represented an effective annual rate of 0.03% of the fund's average net assets.

C. In accordance with the terms of a Funds' Service Agreement (the "FSA") between Vanguard and the fund, Vanguard furnishes to the fund investment advisory, corporate management, administrative, marketing, and distribution services at Vanguard's cost of operations (as defined by the FSA). These costs of operations are allocated to the fund based on methods and guidelines approved by the board of trustees and are generally settled twice a month.

Upon the request of Vanguard, the fund may invest up to 0.40% of its net assets as capital in Vanguard. At January 31, 2023, the fund had contributed to Vanguard capital in the amount of $859,000, representing less than 0.01% of the fund's net assets and 0.34% of Vanguard's capital received pursuant to the FSA. The fund's trustees and officers are also directors and employees, respectively, of Vanguard.

- D. The fund's custodian bank has agreed to reduce its fees when the fund maintains cash on deposit in the non-interest-bearing custody account. For the year ended January 31, 2023, custodian fee offset arrangements reduced the fund's expenses by $66,000 (an annual rate of less than 0.01% of average net assets).
- E. Various inputs may be used to determine the value of the fund's investments, other financial instruments, and derivatives. These inputs are summarized in three broad levels for financial statement purposes. The inputs or methodologies used to value securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.
- Level 1—Quoted prices in active markets for identical securities.
- Level 2—Other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.).
- Level 3—Significant unobservable inputs (including the fund's own assumptions used to determine the fair value of investments). Any investments, other financial instruments, and derivatives valued with significant unobservable inputs are noted on the Schedule of Investments.

The following table summarizes the market value of the fund's investments, other financial instruments, and derivatives as of January 31, 2023, based on the inputs used to value them:

G. Permanent differences between book-basis and tax-basis components of net assets are reclassified among capital accounts in the financial statements to reflect their tax character. These reclassifications have no effect on net assets or net asset value per share. As of period end, permanent differences primarily attributable to the accounting for applicable foreign currency transactions and swap agreements were reclassified between the individual components of total distributable earnings (loss).

Temporary differences between book-basis and tax-basis components of total distributable earnings (loss) arise when certain items of income, gain, or loss are recognized in different periods for financial statement and tax purposes; these differences will reverse at some time in the future. The differences are primarily related to the deferral of losses from wash sales; the deferral of losses from straddles; the recognition of unrealized gains or losses from certain derivative contracts; the inclusion of payables for distributions; the recognition of gain or loss from foreign currency hedges; and the treatment of amortization adjustments from certain fixed income securities. As of period end, the tax-basis components of total distributable earnings (loss) are detailed in the table as follows:

	Amount ($000)
Undistributed Ordinary Income	37,137
Undistributed Long-Term Gains	_
Capital Loss Carryforwards	(1,464,166)
Qualified Late-Year Losses	_
Net Unrealized Gains (Losses)	(1,545,493)
Other Temporary Differences	(22,482)
Total	(2,995,004)

The tax character of distributions paid was as follows:

	Year Ende	Year Ended January 31,
	2023 Amount ($000)	2022 Amount ($000)
Ordinary Income*	1,278,319	1,220,847
Long-Term Capital Gains	_	_
Total	1,278,319	1,220,847

^{*} Includes short-term capital gains, if any.

As of January 31, 2023, gross unrealized appreciation and depreciation for investments and derivatives based on cost for U.S. federal income tax purposes were as follows:

	Amount ($000)
Tax Cost	25,013,782
Gross Unrealized Appreciation	281,135
Gross Unrealized Depreciation	(1,826,628)
Net Unrealized Appreciation (Depreciation)	(1,545,493)

H. During the year ended January 31, 2023, the fund purchased $6,740,340,000 of investment securities and sold $9,551,373,000 of investment securities, other than U.S. government securities and temporary cash investments. Purchases and sales of U.S. government securities were $1,933,867,000 and $1,787,984,000, respectively.

The fund purchased securities from and sold securities to other Vanguard funds or accounts managed by Vanguard or its affiliates, in accordance with procedures adopted by the board of trustees in compliance with Rule 17a-7 of the Investment Company Act of 1940. Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Board of Trustees of Vanguard Fixed Income Securities Funds and Shareholders of Vanguard High-Yield Corporate Fund

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities, including the schedule of investments, of Vanguard High-Yield Corporate Fund (one of the funds constituting Vanguard Fixed Income Securities Funds, referred to hereafter as the "Fund") as of January 31, 2023, the related statement of operations for the year ended January 31, 2023, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the two years in the period ended January 31, 2023, including the related notes, and the financial highlights for each of the five years in the period ended January 31, 2023 (collectively referred to as the "financial statements"). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Fund as of January 31, 2023, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the two years in the period ended January 31, 2023 and the financial highlights for each of the five years in the period ended January 31, 2023 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Fund's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Fund's financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Fund in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits of these financial statements in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of January 31, 2023 by correspondence with the custodian, transfer agent and brokers; when replies were not received from brokers, we performed other auditing procedures. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

/s/PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP Philadelphia, Pennsylvania March 23, 2023

We have served as the auditor of one or more investment companies in The Vanguard Group of Funds since 1975.

Tax information (unaudited)

The fund hereby designates $19,242,000, or if subsequently determined to be different, the maximum amount allowable by law, of interest earned from obligations of the U.S. government which is generally exempt from state income tax.

The fund hereby designates 97.1%, or if subsequently determined to be different, the maximum percentage allowable by law, of ordinary income dividends eligible to be treated as interest income for purposes of Section 163(j) and the regulations thereunder for the fiscal year.

The fund hereby designates 73.9%, or if subsequently determined to be different, the maximum percentage allowable by law, as interest-related dividends eligible for exemption from U.S. withholding tax for nonresident alien shareholders.

Trustees Approve Advisory Arrangement

The board of trustees of Vanguard High-Yield Corporate Fund has approved a restructuring of the fund's investment advisory arrangements whereby The Vanguard Group, Inc. (Vanguard), through its Fixed Income Group, has been added as an advisor to the fund, effective August 29, 2022. The board determined that the foregoing action was in the best interest of the fund. As of August 29, 2022, Wellington Management Company LLP and Vanguard are advisors to the fund.

The board based its decision upon an evaluation of the Fixed Income Group's investment staff, portfolio management process, and performance. This evaluation included information provided to the board by Vanguard's Portfolio Review Department, which is responsible for fund and advisor oversight and product management. The trustees considered the factors discussed below, among others. However, no single factor determined whether the board approved the arrangement. Rather, it was the totality of the circumstances that drove the board's decision.

Nature, extent, and quality of services

The board reviewed the quality of the investment management services to be provided to the fund and took into account the organizational depth and stability of the advisor. The board noted that Vanguard has been managing investments for more than four decades. The Fixed Income Group adheres to a sound, disciplined investment management process; the team has considerable experience, stability, and depth.

The board concluded that Vanguard's experience, stability, depth, and performance, among other factors, warranted approval of the advisory arrangement.

Investment performance

The board considered that Vanguard, in its management of another fund, has a track record of successfully managing its strategy, and considered periods of outperformance or underperformance compared with a relevant benchmark index.

Cost

The board considered the cost of services to be provided and competitive fee rates and concluded that, after implementation of the new arrangement with Vanguard, the fund's advisory fee rate and expense ratio should remain below the advisory fee rates and expense ratios of the fund's peers.

The board does not conduct a profitability analysis of Vanguard because of Vanguard's unique structure. Unlike most other mutual fund management companies, Vanguard is owned by the funds it oversees.

The benefit of economies of scale

The board concluded that the fund's arrangement with Vanguard ensures that the fund will realize economies of scale as it grows, with the cost to shareholders declining as fund assets managed by Vanguard increase.

The board will consider whether to renew the advisory arrangement after a one-year period.

The People Who Govern Your Fund

The trustees of your mutual fund are there to see that the fund is operated and managed in your best interests since, as a shareholder, you are a part owner of the fund. Your fund's trustees also serve on the board of directors of The Vanguard Group, Inc., which is owned by the Vanguard funds and provides services to them.

A majority of Vanguard's board members are independent, meaning that they have no affiliation with Vanguard or the funds they oversee, apart from the sizable personal investments they have made as private individuals. The independent board members have distinguished backgrounds in business, academia, and public service. Each of the trustees and executive officers oversees 206 Vanguard funds.

Information for each trustee and executive officer of the fund appears below. That information, as well as the Vanguard fund count, is as of the date on the cover of this fund report. The mailing address of the trustees and officers is P.O. Box 876, Valley Forge, PA 19482. More information about the trustees is in the Statement of Additional Information, which can be obtained, without charge, by contacting Vanguard at 800-662-7447, or online at vanguard.com.
